Powered by a Qualcomm quad-core CPU, the BE6500 (2.4GHz: 2x2:2, 5/6GHz: 2x2:2) dual-radio access point delivers blazing-fast WiFi 7 speeds of up to 6.5Gbps, ensuring enterprise-grade performance in a compact design.

Equipped with a 2.5GbE port, the NWA90BE PRO offers a cost-effective way to experience WiFi 7’s full potential, delivering multi-gigabit speeds without disrupting your current network setup.

Smart Mesh MLO: More Bandwidth, Less Hassle

Smart Mesh MLO (Multiple Link Operation) technology automatically establishes dynamic wireless links, eliminating the need for complex, inconvenient cabling in WiFi deployments.

Unlike traditional mesh networks that rely on a single radio for data transmission, the NWA90BE PRO utilizes dual-radio backhaul, delivering superior bandwidth, enhanced interference resistance, and ultra-low latency for seamless, high-performance connectivity.

Secure Authentication to Safeguard Business Networks

With support for a captive portal, IEEE 802.1X/RADIUS authentication, the NWA90BE PRO not only offers small business users enterprise-level security to protect their networks, but also provides flexible options to customize wireless network login pages for marketing and brand recognition.
