For your morning treats

Instead of the annoying buzz of the alarm clock, why not wake up to the scent of freshly baked bread? Owing to the delayed start function that allows settings of up to 13 hours, you can do this without even getting out of bed. Just add the ingredients into the bread machine, select the right program, and time the program completion to coincide with your morning ritual.

No less pleasure

Gorenje has thought about those who eat gluten-free bread. Because of the specifics of gluten-free flour that increases the time of rising and baking, the appliance features a "gluten free" program. To prepare this type of bread in a conventional bread maker, you do not need extra manual mixing.
