lighting effects available, such as Lightning, Paparazzi, Candle Flame, Fireworks, or Party. This makes it easy to create a fantastic atmosphere while filming a wedding, streaming live, and more!

Flexible Power Options

The lights in the set can be powered in two ways: either via the included DC 15 V 4.8 A adapter or using Sony NP-F batteries (not included). This gives you exceptional flexibility – you can work under various conditions, both in the studio and outdoors. This is an excellent option for photographers and filmmakers who often change locations!

Control via App

Control of the RGB168 panels is via an app, which allows you to manage up to 8 groups of devices and save two sets of light settings. This makes it quick and easy to adjust the lighting to changing conditions and scenario requirements. Now, everything you might need is at your fingertips!

Solid, Adjustable Stands

The set also includes two metal stands that provide stability and safety for your light panels. You can also adjust their height from 85 cm to 200 cm, allowing for optimal light adjustment to current needs. They have a maximum load capacity of 10 kg, which speaks to their robustness and ability to hold heavier equipment.
