The Lanberg rack cabinet is designed for efficient and organized setting of equipment. This versatile product features a flat pack, making it easy to transport and assemble as required. Constructed from cold-rolled steel, the cabinet ensures durability and strength, capable of holding a maximum load weight of 1200 kg. The design includes six built-in cooling fans, ensuring optimal ventilation and temperature control for mounted equipment.

Equipped with an LCD display for monitoring, this cabinet also boasts a glass front door, providing visibility while maintaining a secured environment. The 180° door opening enhances accessibility, complemented by cable entry points located at the top and bottom for improved cable management. Additional features such as a grounding cable, M6 screws, side panel lock, front and rear keylocks, legs, and wheels with brakes enhance the overall functionality, making it suitable for various professional applications.
