Lanberg CAT 6 patch cable provides dependable network connectivity for home, office, and data center patching needs. The round, booted, snagless design and PVC jacket make cable routing and port insertion easier while HDPE insulation and an AWG 26 conductor support consistent signal transmission up to 250 MHz, with Fluke-tested verification for reliable links. Foiled unshielded twisted pair construction and RJ-45 male-to-male connectors deliver a straightforward Plug-and-Play connection that meets common installation standards and RoHS compliance for safer material use.
