The Natec Ribera power adapter is designed with GaN technology that allows for efficient charging in a compact size. This wall charger provides flexibility with multiple output options, including a 4-pin USB Type-A and a 24-pin USB-C, making it ideal for charging various devices simultaneously. With a total power output of 30 W and an adjustable voltage range from 5 to 12 V, this adapter caters to a wide array of devices, ensuring quick and reliable charging.

Safety is a priority with short circuit, overheat, overvoltage, and overcurrent protection included to safeguard both the power adapter and the devices it charges. The Natec Ribera is compliant with RoHS, WEEE, and UKCA standards, enhancing its reliability for indoor use. It also supports multiple fast charging technologies such as Huawei Fast Charge, Samsung Adaptive Fast Charging, Quick Charge 3.0, and Power Delivery 3.0 + PPS, making it a versatile choice for users on the go.
