The Lanberg CAT 6a patch cable is designed to meet the demands of high-speed networking applications. Featuring S/FTP technology, it provides performance with tested frequencies of up to 500 MHz. The aluminum foil shielding and Copper-Clad Aluminium conductors ensure a reliable connection while maintaining halogen-free properties, making it a safe choice for various environments.

Engineered with molded, snagless connectors, this cable minimizes the risk of damage during installation. The low smoke zero halogen jacket material offers additional safety benefits in case of fire. Packaged in a string bag, this patch cable is an ideal solution for both professional and personal networking needs.
