Designed for optimal performance, the Lanberg PCF6A-10CC-1500-BK patch cable offers robust connectivity solutions suitable for various networking environments. With its S/FTP technology and aluminum foil shielding, this cable minimizes interference, ensuring reliable data transmission up to 500 MHz. The Low Smoke Zero Halogen jacket material enhances safety by reducing toxic smoke in case of fire, making it a suitable choice for installations where fire safety is a priority.

This CAT 6a cable features stranded construction and HDPE conductor insulation, ensuring flexibility and durability. The RJ-45 connectors on both ends ensure a secure and efficient connection to network devices. Compliance with ANSI/TIA/EIA 568-B standards means this cable meets essential specifications, making it a choice for both professional and personal use.
