The Lanberg PCF6A-10CC-1500-S is a CAT 6a patch cable designed to provide reliable connectivity for networks. With S/FTP technology and a tested frequency of up to 500 MHz, this cable ensures optimal performance for data transmission. The aluminum foil with braid shielding protects against interference, while the halogen-free jacket material promotes safety in various environments. Featuring RJ-45 connectors on both ends, this cable is equipped with molded and snagless designs to prevent damage and ensure easy handling. The Copper-Clad Aluminium (CCA) conductors with HDPE insulation contribute to durability and flexibility. Packaged in a string bag, this cable is compliant with ANSI/TIA/EIA 568-B standards, making it a choice for professional and personal use alike.
