HoMedics Smoothee IR

Smoothee IR is a simple, safe and clinically proven* way to reduce the appearance of cellulite, leaving skin visibly smoother. This patent pending design combines Vacuum Suction with Infrared Technology for the first time in a home-use device. The round shape of the vacuum cups and smooth massage fingers allow free movement over the skin in any direction for a more natural and convenient application, while the unique cooling head soothes and firms the skin post-treatment.

The Science of Smoothee IR

Smoothee IR works on the same principle as the Traditional Chinese practice of Cupping where a vacuum is created to draw skin up into a smooth cup and produce a deep tissue massage. The Smoothee IR simplifies this technique by using an electronically controlled pump to create the vacuum which is enhanced by the addition of gentle infrared (IR) heat.

Applying the vacuum and infrared heat to areas of cellulite helps to loosen and disperse the fat deposits within the connective tissue layer and creates a smoother surface appearance. By using the cooling head for a few minutes after each treatment, your skin will also be left feeling beautifully soothed.

See And Feel The Difference After Just 28 Days

In an independent clinical test, over 70% of users saw a visible improvement in skin smoothness after using Smoothee IR.

Smooth, Then Soothe

Smoothee IR includes a unique cooling head. Gently apply the cold surface onto the skin, moving slowly over the whole of the treated area, to help soothe and firm the skin.
