The MikroTik ATL R16 is designed to provide robust connectivity for demanding environments. Its internal antenna with a gain level of 16 dBi ensures reliable signal strength, making it suitable for rooftop installations. This router supports a wide range of cellular protocols, including 5G, ensuring compatibility with upcoming network technologies. With operational temperatures as low as -40°C and as high as 70°C, it is built to withstand harsh conditions. Its IP66 rating ensures it is both water-resistant and dust-resistant, making it ideal for rugged use cases.
