The Lanberg WF01 Series rack is designed for efficient organization and secure storage of equipment. Constructed from cold-rolled steel, this installation cabinet offers support with a weight limit of 60 kg. Its flat pack design makes it easy to transport and assemble, while the lockable perforated front door and vented top panel enhance ventilation and security, providing a solution for various installations. With four vertical mounting rails and compatibility with ETSI and DIN standards, it integrates into different setups, ensuring a versatile use case for both professional and personal needs.
