The compact HP OneShred Auto 100CC rolls in with a cutting capacity of 100 sheets via the automatic paper infeed. The shredder which uses the cross-cut method of cutting, is not only designed for the home office but also perfectly suited to small office environments and can be moved about easily and as required thanks to its four castors. This white, mobile device shreds documents containing personal data in a particle-cut to produce small clippings sized 4.3 mm x 12 mm. This fulfils the high demands of security level P-4 and shredding according to the General Data Protection Requirements. The working speed of 2.1 metres per minute means that this is a very efficient shredder.
