GODOX AD-S85S Softbox

The Godox AD-S85S is an 85-cm-diameter softbox that allows you to achieve soft, natural, and precisely controlled light during photo shoots. Its deep, parabolic design allows for more precise light direction onto the subject, making it easier to highlight details and create a professional look both in the studio and on location. The quick-fold mechanism and dedicated Godox mount mean that setting up the equipment takes just a moment.

Parabolic Design for Full Light Control

The softbox features a very deep bowl shaped like a tulip. This design allows for precise control over the direction of the light while ensuring its even and soft diffusion. This makes it easier to achieve aesthetically pleasing lighting for portraits, products, or other subjects and gives your photos a professional look.

The AD-S85S model is equipped with a quick-fold mechanism that significantly streamlines the setup of a photo shoot. Unfolding the softbox, mounting it on the flash, and starting the session is a smooth process, and once you're done, you can fold it up just as quickly. The included bag facilitates safe transport and convenient storage, making the softbox ideal for on-location shoots as well.

Godox Mount and Extensive Light Modification Options

The dedicated Godox mount ensures quick and convenient attachment to compatible strobes, such as the AD300Pro, AD400Pro, or ML60. The set includes two diffusers, two internal reflectors in silver and gold, and a honeycomb grid, which allow you to adjust the light's character to suit a specific scene. The diffusers provide even softer lighting, the reflectors allow you to modify the light's character, and the grid helps narrow the light beam and precisely direct it onto the subject. As a result, the softbox is ideal for both studio and outdoor use.
