On-site meetings often involve a greater number of participants. As such, effective video and audio collaboration in larger rooms requires the careful consideration of factors such as voice pickup range, visual coverage, and unified communications integration to ensure truly productive meetings. AudioCodes' RXV100 bundles featuring the RXVCam50M for video bring meetings to life and deliver the optimal collaboration experience for everyone. The RX40 Audio bar with speakers included in the RXV100-B42 bundle allows your large space to have superior audio quality with the included auxillary speakers.
