The patented NSS (Non-Scratch-SATA) connector is built to withstand 50000 HDD replacements, Which means about 50 years if we calculate four to five changes per day. This special aluminium enclosure is conceived without fan and the built-in rubber padding protects and vibrations and noise.

Robust material

The patented NSS (Non-Scratch-SATA) connection is designed for over 50,000 hard disk changes. With four to five changes per day, this corresponds to a service life of around 50 working years. The special aluminum housing does not need a fan and the built-in rubber padding prevents the data carrier from vibrating and noises.
