Precise laser measurements up to 50 m with app-connected digital documentation

Renovation planning at your fingertips – not only does the UniversalDistance 50C measure distances up to 50 m with laser precision but it also provides furniture dimensions at a glance. Its integrated functions enable area and volume calculations to determine the amount of material needed for jobs like flooring installations and even wallpaper or paint for wall projects. Its high-quality display presents measuring results for optimum readability. All data can be sent to the Bosch app for digital documentation and project planning, saving time and preventing errors.
