Oxid 850 is a cooling stand dedicated to laptops with a diagonal of up to 17.3" that helps to maintain the right temperature of the device during intense gaming sessions. Its folding feet will increase the ergonomics of work and the spectacular RGB lighting of the main fan will be the perfect complement to any gaming room.

The stand is equipped with an efficient and safe cooling system based on four small fans that extract heat from under the laptop and one main fan which feeds cold air into the laptop. The right location of the fans ensures extremely effective cooling, and the three-stage speed control of their rotation will effectively reduce the temperature of the laptop even during fiercest battles.

The stand has a six-step adjustment of the angle of inclination which will allow you to perfectly adjust its setting to your individual preferences. Give yourself the best gaming experience and play on your own terms!
