Whether you're an amateur or professional chef, making bacon and eggs or haute cuisine, the classic frying pan is a must in every kitchen. The WMF frying pan range offers the right pan for every dish, every ingredient and every method of preparation. Choose between high-grade stainless steel, aluminium or a multilayer material, between a heat-resistant ceramic coating or a durable PermaDur non-stick coating and between various sizes, shapes and depths and the lids to match. All frying pans have an ergonomic handle so that they fit well and feel good in your hand. So make the most of it and go create – safe in the knowledge that nothing will stick.

The WMF Profi Resist series offers you the advantages of a stainless steel pan and a non-stick coating in one: an aluminium core, a rust-free Cromargan® stainless steel interior and an extremely resistant chrome steel exterior. The coated frying surface also helps prevent burning and sticking. As the stainless steel withstands high temperatures, you can maximise the heat to give poultry and other meat a delicious crust. Profi Resist pans are simply perfect for anything that needs flash-frying or searing. So get sizzling! You will get many years of enjoyment from these pans, as the raised stainless steel honeycomb-shaped web structure protects the non-stick coating on the Profi Resist models. The multilayer material of the pans means they evenly distribute heat and are suitable for use on all types of hob, including energy-efficient induction hobs. The elegantly designed collection includes high-quality frying and serving pans as well as a wok.
