user-friendly feature not only saves you time but also eliminates the hassle of dealing with small screws or intricate assembly steps, ensuring a seamless experience whether you're upgrading your storage or transferring data on the go.

Robust aluminium housing

Crafted from premium aluminum, the IB-1919M-C42 not only exudes durability but also serves as a robust shield for your M.2 2280 PCIe NVMe SSD. The aluminum housing not only protects your drive from physical damage but also acts as an efficient heat sink, dissipating heat effectively to maintain optimal operating temperatures even during prolonged usage. This ensures your SSD operates reliably and maintains peak performance over time, making it ideal for demanding professional environments and frequent travel.
