ROG Azoth Extreme

The ROG Azoth Extreme is a customizable 75% gaming keyboard with a premium aluminum-alloy chassis and metal frame. It features an 8000 Hz report rate with the ROG Polling Rate Booster and over 1600 hours of battery life in ROG SpeedNova 2.4 GHz wireless mode. The upgraded OLED touchscreen and three-way knob enable system monitoring and quick adjustments. The carbon-fiber positioning plate ensures a crisp typing sound, while three dampening layers absorb vibrations. An adjustable gasket mount with a paddle switch offers two typing preferences.

Superior Build Quality

The ROG Azoth Extreme boasts premium aesthetics with its full aluminum-alloy chassis and metal frame, featuring a distinctive bladed pattern. The bottom chassis is achieved through 12 steps of intricate manufacturing processes, including sandblasting, anodizing, CNC machining, and more.

This sophisticated 1.47-inch full-color OLED touchscreen can show keyboard status, including Caps Lock, connection mode and PC/Mac mode indicators. It can also display battery level, multimedia info, custom animations, as well as system parameters such as CPU temperature. Intuitive tweaks and settings adjustments can be made via the three-way control knob and a side button.
