The BROCK WK 5521 WH is a modern 1.8-liter electric kettle with a durable stainless steel body and double-wall construction. The double-wall design helps keep the outer surface cooler while maintaining the water temperature inside for longer. The kettle features a 360° rotating base, concealed heating element and a secure locking lid for convenient everyday use. It can be switched on and off manually and also shuts off automatically when the water reaches boiling point. Built-in boil-dry and overheating protection provide additional safety if the appliance is switched on without sufficient water. A light indicator shows when the kettle is operating.
