The use of InLine® anti-dust systems allows you to protect doors and connectors from dust, fumes and dirt, ensuring a longer service life for your products. For example, dust and dirt, penetrating into equipment through unused doors, tends to stick and accumulate on internal components and can cause short circuits or malfunctions. Particularly useful for protecting TVs, Monitors and LCD, TFT, Plasma Displays in Audio / Video (A/V) systems, Digital Signage, digital signage, videoposters or professional digital signage positioned in public environments such as public offices, stations, airports, stadiums, squares and others.
