

Dahua Technology WizSense NVR4104HS-P-EI network video recorder 1U Black

Model: NVR4104HS-P-EI

Manufacturer: DAHUA

EAN: 6923172585103

Product Code: 1578403

R4,668

This network video recorder features a compact 1U chassis design and is equipped with four channels and four Power over Ethernet (PoE) ports. It supports a single hard drive, allowing for efficient storage management. The device is part of the WizSense series, which is designed to provide enhanced AI capabilities, improving the accuracy and efficiency of video surveillance.

The recorder utilizes H.265 compression technology, which significantly reduces bandwidth and storage requirements while maintaining high-quality video output. It supports a maximum resolution of 8MP for recording and playback, ensuring clear and detailed images. Additionally, the device offers smart features such as motion detection, tampering alarms, and video loss notifications to

The product information provided is for reference purposes only. Technical specifications, photos, descriptions and prices may change without prior notice. The manufacturer and seller are not responsible for possible data discrepancies or typographical errors. We recommend checking the current information before purchasing.

itworkup.co.za | sales@itworkup.co.za | +27 (11)541-9950

enhance security measures.

With its straightforward setup and user-friendly interface, the recorder is suitable for various applications, including residential and small business environments. It also includes support for multiple network monitoring, providing flexibility in remote viewing and management of video feeds. The unit is designed for durability and sustained performance, ensuring long-term reliability in video recording and surveillance tasks.