

Dahua Technology PFA137 security camera accessory Junction box

Model: PFA137

Manufacturer: DAHUA

EAN: 6939554903533

Product Code: 1578428

R766

The Dahua PFA137 Junction Box is a highly functional and aesthetically pleasing accessory for your security camera systems. Designed with a focus on practicality, this junction box is crafted from durable aluminum, ensuring longevity and resilience in various environmental conditions. The sleek design not only enhances the visual appeal of your surveillance setup but also provides a safe and secure way to house critical connections.

The primary application of the PFA137 Junction Box is to facilitate the installation of Dahua's security cameras, allowing for neat and organized cable management. By minimizing clutter, it enhances the overall efficiency of your surveillance system. This product is a part of Dahua's

The product information provided is for reference purposes only. Technical specifications, photos, descriptions and prices may change without prior notice. The manufacturer and seller are not responsible for possible data discrepancies or typographical errors. We recommend checking the current information before purchasing.

itworkup.co.za | sales@itworkup.co.za | +27 (11)541-9950

commitment to delivering high-quality security solutions that meet the needs of both residential and commercial users.

One of the standout features of the Dahua PFA137 is its superior design which allows for easy access to cables while maintaining a waterproof and dustproof enclosure. This not only protects important connections from the elements but also showcases Dahua's innovative approach in providing reliable security accessories that stand out in the market.