

ICY BOX Diamond Stand 666

Model: 61219

Manufacturer: ICY BOX

EAN: 4250078175575

Product Code: 1580963

R5,618

Designed for serious work

Diamond Stand 666 is made for those who take it to the extremes. Handle up to six monitors at once and shape the design studio or office setup of your dreams. The aluminum arms hold each display firmly in place, even when using larger or heavier monitors. This gives you a stable foundation for daily work without worrying about sagging or shifting. When your setup grows, the stand is ready to keep up.

Strength with style

Diamond Stand 666 is a stand that looks as good as it performs. The aluminum structure keeps this stand solid while maintaining a clean and balanced appearance. It feels sturdy on the desk without looking bulky or industrial. The slim profile blends well into modern workspaces and professional environments. At the same time, the metal finish adds a premium touch that matches high-end

The product information provided is for reference purposes only. Technical specifications, photos, descriptions and prices may change without prior notice. The manufacturer and seller are not responsible for possible data discrepancies or typographical errors. We recommend checking the current information before purchasing.

itworkup.co.za | sales@itworkup.co.za | +27 (11)541-9950

equipment.

Easy setup with VESA® plate

Hassle-free installation loved by amateurs and pros alike. The detachable VESA® plates make mounting your monitors much more practical. You can attach each screen first, then place it onto the arm without having to hold everything at once. The plates also rotate freely, so you can switch screen orientation at any time. It's a setup that saves time and makes adjustments simple.

Ergonomic adjustments for you

The sliding horizontal bar and curved rail give you full control over screen positioning. You can move each monitor sideways to build a layout that fits your workflow. The curved design keeps all displays within a natural viewing range, so you don't have to constantly turn your head. This helps reduce strain during long working hours. Your setup feels more natural and easier to work with.

2 mounting options included

Diamond Stand 666 includes both a desk clamp and a grommet mount, giving you 2 ways to install it. You can fix it to the edge of your desk or mount it through a desk hole, depending on your space and preferences. This makes it suitable for many desk types, from home offices to professional workstations. You don't need to buy extra parts to get started. Everything required for installation is already included.

No more cable mess

Get rid of your cable clutter. The built-in cable management keeps wires neatly guided along the arms. This prevents cables from hanging loose or piling up behind your monitors. You spend less time dealing with cable mess and more time focusing on your work. It's a simple feature that improves the whole desk experience.

The product information provided is for reference purposes only. Technical specifications, photos, descriptions and prices may change without prior notice. The manufacturer and seller are not responsible for possible data discrepancies or typographical errors. We recommend checking the current information before purchasing.

itworkup.co.za | sales@itworkup.co.za | +27 (11)541-9950