Integrated laptop stand, always with you.

This laptop stand is suitable for a wide range of laptop models from 13 to 16 inches. The UltraStand Universal can be easily integrated to the laptop thanks to the adhesive strips. You will not even notice that you are carrying it with you due to the extreme light weight (89 g) and the thickness (10 mm). The high-quality aluminium sandwich material makes the UltraStand Universal highly resistant to dents and very stable. Simply set the optimal height between 95 and 160 mm via the flexible strap with magnetic fastener on the front. From now on never forget your laptop stand for your mobile work and start working in a healthier, more comfortable posture everywhere.

Right height and distance.

You’d like to choose the right height and angle for your laptop screen, and reduce the viewing distance? With the UltraStand Universal you prevent unnecessary bending of your neck and back "into your monitor". The UltraStand Universal supports a healthier posture and reduces physical discomfort. This will lead to a comfortable and productive way of working.

Made of high-quality, unique aluminium sandwich material.

This unique material, which is also used in the automotive industry, is lighter than aluminium and resistant to dents and scratches. The aluminium sandwich material makes the UltraStand Universal therefore very durable. The open design of the laptop stand gives enough ventilation space, so that your laptop stays cool.
