The DisplayPort 2.1 cable with 54 Gbps bandwidth is designed for high-performance audio and video transmission, making it ideal for gaming, professional applications, and home entertainment systems. Its impressive bandwidth supports resolutions up to 16K at 60Hz and 8K at 120Hz, providing stunning picture quality and ultra-smooth visuals.

Durability is a key feature of this cable, as it comes with a robust aluminum casing that protects internal components from damage, ensuring longevity and reliable performance. The cotton braiding not only adds a premium aesthetic but also enhances flexibility and resistance to tangling, making it easier to manage.
