The 128895 USB-C to C Y-charging cable is designed to deliver high-power charging with flexible connectivity for modern USB-C devices.

Supporting USB Power Delivery 3.1, the cable provides up to 140W (28V/5A) of power, making it suitable for charging USB-C laptops, tablets, smartphones, and accessories. The Y-shaped design allows two USB-C devices to be powered from a single PD charger, while reducing strain at the connection points for improved durability during everyday use.

An integrated E-marker chipset ensures safe power negotiation and stable charging performance. Premium braided cotton mesh, double shielding, and an aluminum housing help maintain reliable operation and long service life, making this cable ideal for home, office, and travel environments.
