The equip® 337213 24-Port Fiber Optic Splice Box is a compact 1U rack-mount solution designed for efficient fiber management in high-density network environments. Equipped with LC duplex adapters, it supports OM3 multimode fiber, making it ideal for high-speed data transmission in data centers and enterprise networks.

The enclosure provides organized cable routing and secure fiber splicing, ensuring protection for sensitive fiber connections. Its pre-equipped design simplifies installation, reduces deployment time, and enables consistent performance in structured cabling systems.

Built with a durable metal housing, the splice box ensures long-term reliability and stability. The front-access design allows easy maintenance and quick access to connections, offering a practical
