No “Oops!” with Hoops! The PanzerGlass® Hoops Camera Lens Protector for foldable phones keeps your camera lenses safe from accidental scratches - all while maintaining a sleek, device-matched look designed to complement the unique form factor of foldable devices.

The slim-profile optic rings are made with scratch- and shock-resistant glass and a durable metal frame, providing strong protection for the entire camera system on your foldable phone. They not only shield your lenses but also enhance the visual finish of the camera area, ensuring your device stays both protected and stylish.

And if you’re worried about image quality, you can rest easy: Hoops don’t affect clarity or photo performance - they simply add an extra layer of peace of mind.

Designed with foldable devices in mind, the optic rings ensure an easy and precise fit, supported by a silicone adhesive along the edges and an intuitive applicator that makes installation quick and reliable.

The camera lens protector is designed to help extend the lifetime of your phone, so you can keep enjoying it longer - and maybe even pass it on to someone else in the future. For full protection, combine it with a PanzerGlass® screen protector and a stylish CARE™ by PanzerGlass® case.

And, of course, this product comes in a recyclable FSC™-certified box.
