The equip® 119395 DisplayPort to HDMI Adapter Cable provides a simple, direct way to connect a DisplayPort-enabled computer to an HDMI display such as a monitor, TV, or projector. With DisplayPort Male to HDMI Male connectors and a 5m cable length, it is ideal for workstations, home entertainment, classrooms, and meeting rooms where you need a reliable video link.

Supporting resolutions up to 4K 60Hz and data rates up to 18Gbps, this cable delivers crisp, detailed images and smooth playback, while gold-plated connectors help maintain signal integrity and reduce interference. Designed as a unidirectional cable from DisplayPort source to HDMI display, it offers true plug-and-play installation without the need for drivers or external power.
