The Toshiba N300 NAS is engineered for reliability and performance in high-demand environments. With a capacity of 6 TB and a data transfer rate of 600 MBps, this internal hard drive is optimized for 24x7 operation, making it suitable for NAS systems and data-intensive applications. The 7200 rpm spindle speed and features like Toshiba Dynamic Cache Technology enhance data access speed and efficiency, ensuring a seamless experience for users.

Designed with durability in mind, the Toshiba N300 NAS incorporates shock and vibration tolerance features, ensuring data integrity during operation. With a minimum operating temperature of 5°C and a maximum of 60°C, alongside a robust MTBF of 1,000,000 hours, this hard drive stands up to the rigors of continuous use while remaining compliant with RoHS standards. The intuitive design and performance make this drive a valuable addition to any data storage setup.
