Two-metre-long cable for connecting a monitor with a DisplayPort input to a computer or monitor with a USB-C output.

Use a cable to connect a computer with a USB-C output to a monitor with a DisplayPort input. This cable also allows you to connect monitors with USB-C daisy chain compatibility to other monitors with a Display Port input. The cable is available in white or black to match your monitor’s housing colour.

The USB-C to DisplayPort cable does not allow you to charge your laptop or gain access to the monitor’s USB hub.
