The Lanberg FF01 series rack cabinet is designed to provide versatile storage for essential equipment, featuring a robust construction made from high-grade cold-rolled steel. This rack supports a weight limit of 1200 kg, making it suitable for a variety of applications. With dual cooling fans and an integrated thermostat alongside an LCD display, the cabinet ensures efficient temperature management to protect valuable components from overheating. The flat-pack design aids in easy transport and assembly, enhancing user experience. Built-in locks, including a front lock and side locks, provide security, while the perforated doors facilitate airflow, contributing to a well-ventilated environment.
