This Equip 3333196-Outlet C19 Power Distribution Unit (PDU) is designed to provide efficient and reliable power distribution for high-power IT and industrial equipment. Featuring six IEC C19 outlets, it is ideal for servers, networking devices, and other high-power applications. The on/off switch allows for easy control, while the durable construction ensures long-lasting performance.

With a robust metal housing, this PDU is built for demanding environments such as data centers and server rooms. It supports a wide voltage range and high-power loads, making it an excellent choice for professional power management. Rack-mountable and compact, it helps optimize space while ensuring safe and organized power distribution.
