The Lanberg FF01 series rack combines functionality and durability in a freestanding design. With dimensions of 600 x 800 mm, this cabinet is crafted from cold rolled steel, ensuring reliable performance and sturdiness. It features a flat pack construction with perforated front and rear doors, enhancing airflow for optimal cooling performance. The built-in devices include 4 cooling fans that maintain a stable environment for equipment housed within.

This rack can accommodate up to 800 kg, making it suitable for various applications. The inclusion of essential components such as M6 screws, grounding cable, and locking mechanisms for front and rear doors ensures ease of assembly and security. Leveling legs and side locks provide stability, while wheels with brakes facilitate mobility without sacrificing safety. The product complies with prominent standards including ETSI and DIN 41491, ensuring a reliable choice for installation needs.
