The HoMedics Physio Massage Gun is designed to provide you with a deep tissue percussion massage, helping to release tight aching muscles. To use, choose your desired massage head and intensity level and gently move the massager over the part of your body you wish to massage.

Massage Heads

The HoMedics Physio Massage Gun includes different massage head attachments. These allow you to customise your massage and reach every muscle. The round head attached is most suitable for massaging large muscle groups, including your arms, waist, back, buttocks, and thighs. The conical massage head is great for targeting trigger points and small specific areas, such as feet. The U-shaped attachment is suitable for trapezius muscles, areas around the Achilles tendon muscle, ankle muscle and calf muscles.

Three Intensity Levels

Using the one-button control, you can easily adjust the speed of the intensity of your massage to suit your needs and customise your massage experience. Choose from three intensity levels, low, medium and high.

Rechargeable

For ease of use, the HoMedics Physio Massage Gun is equipped with cordless operation, ideal for taking with you to the gym. Use for up to 1 hour from a full charge.

Lightweight Design
