ROLL TOP DESIGN

Roll top backpacks offer you the ability to remain compact and your belongings to remain secure. While not only being fashionable, this feature speaks to the thought-out design behind this range. It can be folded in any way you might need and will mean that your bag will only ever be as extended or compact as it needs to be, increasing efficiency and maximising your progress.

This will mean that you can store all your sports stuff, casual clothes or any other belongings that you might need with you that day depending on your destination point.

It's so crucial to use a backpack that sacrifices nothing in the way of comfort. This is important not simply because of one's state of mind but also it is vital for your health. One way in which we have designed your bag to do this is the ergonomic design of the back which is a breathable mesh panel that allows air flow and so prevents a build up of perspiration that could become unpleasant. This is just another feature of this range that demonstrates the way in which it has been designed at all times to optimise your well-being.

COMFORTABLE SHOULDER STRAPS WITH SOFTENED BANDS

It is important when choosing a backpack to make sure that you are able to wear it for extended periods without there leading to any form of discomfort. All high-tech backpacks these days require a sternum strap. It is a vital component to anyone that wants to feel stable and secure when moving around. This backpack's sternum strap however goes one further and allows you to slide it up and down on the shoulder strap so that you may choose its most comfortable position. Its length can also be adjusted meaning that you can tighten or loosen it at your discretion. This chest strap then connects to the shoulder straps and reduces the jarring of the backpack. Everything has been thought through to optimise the balance of your journey.

This is not only because they can provide annoyance but also because they can be a very real danger should any of them become snagged. This is why we have created a special band with Velcro on the end of a strap allowing you to roll the excessive strap and fix it in place. This strap management system will mean that all your straps remain neatly folded, prevented from dangling, and fixed in place.

STERNUM STRAP BUCKLE WITH AN INTEGRATED RESCUE WHISTLE

One of the features of this bag that speaks to its high level of design is the integrated rescue whistle located on the sternum strap buckle.
