COMPACT BUT CAPACIOUS

FRONT ZIPPERED COMPARTMENT

The front zippered compartment on this Erebus backpack is a very useful little feature that enables you to simply slip away any important piece of gear that you might have with you like a phone or wallet or a couple of notepads - things that you might need to use very often and so do not want to get stuck underneath other items in the main compartment - and so you can get to them at a moment's notice. This will help you keep forward momentum to your day and mean that you are not constantly having to stop and start.

FRONT ZIPPERED POCKET WITH AN ORGANIZER PANEL

The front zippered pocket of this backpack comes with an organizer panel so that you can put everything you need away in complete order and know where it is at all times of the day. We at RIVACASE know the importance of organization and how it is the key to success. That is why we have made sure that you can quickly locate things like a pen and a notepad or your wallet with your cards in because you do not want to be left embarrassed or just held up while having to look for them. A detachable key strap is also provided for an extra level of organization.

TWO SIDE POCKETS

Two side pockets to this backpack offer you the chance to take along with you those things that you would rather not have on the inside of your bag. We would all like an umbrella for instance to save us from getting soaked on the way to an important meeting. So too do we all want a water bottle so that we can remain healthy and hydrated during our day. But we do not want the risk of putting these things in our bag along with our other personal belongings. These side pockets mean that you can take crucial items with you without fear of this risk.

HIDDEN ZIPPERED POCKET ON THE BACK

The hidden zippered pocket on the back of this backpack offers you the perfect solution to the problem of keeping your things safe while also being easy to get hold of. We all need things like a passport when traveling and we all want to be able to get to them easily when moving through the airport. However, we also want to keep them in an environment of heightened security in case we lose them. That is what this back pocket offers you - ease of access to you personally but ultra-security also to prevent theft and loss.

COMFORTABLE CARRYING

Comfortable shoulder straps with softened bands are a really important feature with this Erebus range that you will not only be thankful for during long journeys when you find the added comfort they produce, but they also help promote health and well-being as they help spread the weight of heavy loads across your shoulders. A padded back panel will stop sharper objects from digging into your back and a soft carrying handle and a loop for hanging mean that you can tuck your bag away keeping your house nice and tidy.

STRAP MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

The strap management system on this Erebus backpack prevents excess strap material from dangling. This is important as these are the kinds of things that can become snagged on other objects when moving at speed causing the potential for serious injury. Elevator and train doors can cause serious risks also should the straps become trapped. But this system is also in place so that you are kept looking as compact and as professional as possible and not too scruffy when you turn up to that important meeting or date.
