The Gembird PP12-1M is a CAT 5e patch cable designed for high-speed data transmission. With six color-coded wires twisted into four pairs, this cable supports a variety of applications. The moldable jacket, combined with gold-plated RJ-45 connectors on both ends, ensures a strong connection while resisting wear and tear. Its American Wire Gauge (AWG) of 26 contributes to reduced signal loss, making it suitable for both home and office environments, where reliable network performance is essential.
