The Gembird Cablexpert PP6U-1.5M/G is designed to meet the standards of modern networking needs. This patch cable, utilizing UTP technology, offers performance for both home and office environments. Its molded and snagless connectors ensure reliable connections, while the Copper-Clad Aluminum (CCA) conductors enhance conductivity. With a tested frequency of up to 250 MHz, this CAT 6 cable supports high-speed data transmission, making it suitable for various applications. Constructed with high-quality materials, this cable features HDPE insulation and LDPE filler, which contribute to its durability and flexibility. The PVC jacket provides added protection against wear and tear, ensuring a long-lasting solution for networking tasks. Compliant with VDE, ISO 9002, WEEE, RoHS2, and EIA/TIA 568B standards, this cable supports optimal performance and adheres to recognized safety and environmental regulations.
