19 bars - perfect taste

You don't have to go to a coffee shop any more when you crave velvety, flavorful coffee. With HiBREW you can make it right at home! The H1A features a pressure of up to 19 bar. This allows you to get the best out of your beans. Delicious flavour and delightful aroma - discover how good home brewed coffee can be! Prepare a stimulating espresso or a velvety americano for a gathering with friends.

Rapid heating for delicious hot drinks

The HiBREW H1A coffee maker is equipped with an elongated stainless steel heating element which, in combination with the Thermoblock technology and a precise temperature sensor, ensures stable heat maintenance. So you can be sure that your coffee will be hot enough (above 88°C). What's more, the machine heats up very quickly. No need to wait too long for your coffee - with HiBREW your espresso will be ready in just about 40 seconds!

User-friendly

Operating the machine is extremely simple. Just fill the reservoir with water and place the capsule or ground coffee in the appropriate place. Then all you have to do is choose your beverage size. And that's it - you're that much closer to a cup of hot, aromatic espresso! The machine also works surprisingly quietly - its sound level is only about 68dB. The machine's water tank is made of high-quality materials that do not contain harmful BPA.
