The LS-10TEG is a stylish handheld calculator for people and companies that are serious about conserving resources. To reduce wastage, 100% recycled Canon Copier material is used to make the upper case, lower case and battery cover of the calculator – as well as the hard protective case. It’s perfect for conscientious individuals and companies with a Green Procurement policy. And it meets the needs of large corporations working to IS0 14001 certification standards for operating in an environmentally sustainable manner.

Energy efficiency and a longer product life

A dual power source ensures energy efficiency. The calculator uses replaceable batteries for a longer product life - unlike some calculators that have to be disposed of after single battery use. It also runs off solar power for maximum energy saving. The ‘auto power-off’ function switches the calculator off after 7 minutes when not in use, saving even more energy.

Practical tax and Euro conversion functions

Convenient tax and Euro currency conversion functions make this handheld calculator perfect for office and home use – as well as for travelling. Determine tax rates at a touch and quickly convert currencies with ease. This 10-digit calculator also has all of the standard functions you’d expect from Canon to ensure calculating efficiency.

Large LCD display

Despite its compact size, the LS-10TEG has a large LCD display for clear viewing of characters at a glance. It also has a spacious keyboard and large, comfortable key tops for fast and easy entry of figures.

Smart design with handy hard cover

This smart, slim and lightweight calculator is the ideal companion in the office, at home or on the move. Put it in your briefcase, purse or pocket and the practical hard cover, with full 360 degree rotation, protects the display and keyboard.
