lighting conditions, you'll get full control over your images while maintaining the professional aesthetics of your shots.

Universal mount for external lenses

The case offers a built-in 17mm thread, allowing you to install a wide range of lenses - from anamorphic (1.33x / 1.55x) to macro (45x) to wide-angle and telephoto (1.7x). This gives you full creative freedom - you can experiment with framing, depth of field and perspective, just as if you were using professional cameras and camcorders.

MagSafe compatibility

The Freewell case is fully compatible with the MagSafe system, which means you can easily use wireless chargers and Apple accessories. Magnets maintain stability not only for charging, but also for mounting additional accessories - without the need to remove the case.

Ideal for filmmakers and photographers

The Freewell Pro Filmmaker Case is for those who expect more from their iPhone. Whether you're recording promotional footage, travel reports or running a vlog, this case will take the quality of your recordings to a new level. With compatibility with magnetic filters and extensive lens support, your creative possibilities will no longer be limited by your hardware.
