The Lanberg HDMI cable with Ethernet offers a seamless connection for your audio and visual devices. It features a 19-pin HDMI Type-A male connector on both ends, ensuring compatibility across a wide range of devices, including TVs, gaming consoles, and projectors. With support for 4K resolution, this cable delivers stunning picture quality and enhances your viewing experience. Additionally, the cable integrates technology features such as the HDMI Ethernet Channel (HEC) and Audio Return Channel (ARC), providing a more versatile connection. The inclusion of gold-plated connectors minimizes signal loss, ensuring consistent performance every time. This reliable HDMI cable is perfect for anyone looking to upgrade their home entertainment system.
