The Lanberg FO-SASA-SS31-0100-WH patch cable is crafted for efficient fiber optic connectivity, featuring SC/APC connectors on both ends. With singlemode technology and a core/cladding diameter of 9/125 microns, this cable supports high-performance data transmission. The Low Smoke Zero Halogen (LSZH) jacket material ensures safety in environments where smoke and toxicity are concerns, making it ideal for various installations. Designed to withstand harsh conditions with a temperature range from -40°C to 85°C, this patch cable is compliant with G.657.B3 standards. Its simplex mode allows for straightforward usage, and the halogen-free feature contributes to a safer environment during fire incidents. This patch cable is suitable for users needing a reliable and efficient solution for networking and communication.
