A compact and practical USB hub with an integrated cable that easily expands the connectivity of your laptop, tablet, or computer. Thanks to the combination of USB-C and USB-A connectors, it can be connected to a wide range of devices without the need for additional adapters.

The hub features two USB-C and one USB-A port for connecting peripherals such as external drives, keyboards, or other accessories. It also includes a fast 2.5 Gigabit Ethernet port, providing significantly higher speed and stability compared to standard Gigabit LAN – ideal for working with large data files, online meetings, and streaming.

The device operates on a Plug & Play basis, so simply connect it and start using it immediately without installing any drivers. Its compact design and integrated cable make it an ideal companion for travel as well as everyday use in the office or at home.
