90° right-angled DisplayPort adapter: Routes the cable at a right angle to the side – perfect for AV cabinets, monitor backs or panel installations.

8K-compatible: Brilliant image display for professional and industrial applications.

Gold-plated contacts: Durable and interference-free, even under heavy use.

Compact design: Ideal for space-saving and concealed installation situations.

DisplayPort 1.4 compliant: Safe and future-proof use in modern systems.

The InLine® DisplayPort 1.4 adapter with a 90° vertical right-angle connector offers a well-designed solution for installations with limited space. The vertical right angle allows the cable to be neatly routed to the side – ideal for devices in narrow media cabinets or for rear mounting.

With support for 8K UHD, the adapter delivers razor-sharp image quality. The gold-plated contacts ensure a stable, long-lasting connection – even with frequent plugging and unplugging.
