The built-in valve with a sensor automatically cuts off the gas supply if the flame goes out. This makes using the hob safe for household members.

Robust materials and convenient operation

The 8 mm tempered glass panel is heat and scratch resistant, and the solid cast iron grates ensure the stability of the cookware. In addition, the Bakelite knobs are heat-resistant and convenient for regulating the flame.

Adapted to different gas sources

The MGBG-604B model can operate on both NG (Natural Gas) and LPG (Liquefied Petroleum Gas). Suitable nozzles allow you to adapt the device to your installation.

Matching dimensions and easy installation

The plate measures 60 × 51 × 11.5 cm and is designed for installation in recesses measuring 56 × 48 cm. As a result, it fits into most kitchen countertops. What's more, its minimalist design will fit perfectly into most arrangements.
